

WOOD CULTURE AND SCIENCE IV 木の文化と科学IV

Wood Culture in Ancient Egypt and Europe 古代エジプトとヨーロッパにおける木の文化

December 12, 2005

Kyoto University, Uji Campus, Wood Composite Hall, 3rd Floor
京都大学生存圏研究所 木質ホール 大セミナー室(3F)

Medieval wood workshop (left) with a craftsman preparing a plank such as the wooden boards of two manuscripts made of oak - Quercus sp., and beech - Fagus sylvatica (right).

14:00 Cathérine Lavier

Dendrochronologist and Historian, Research and Restoration Center of the Museums of France

Wood in the history of techniques in France and in Europe : restitution of some know-how

Wall painting of the tomb of Pashedou (TT3 at Deir el-Medineh), New Empire.

15:00 Victoria Asensi

Wood anatomist and Egyptologist, Xylodata Ltd./ Pierre et Marie Curie University

Trade and wood selection in Ancient Egyptian civilization